Description

Today, we take permission to read and change all web sites while installing the extension. Instead, let us do this dynamically.

By default, we will assume permission for only youtube.com. For all other sites, we will check with the user.

For all other sites, we will show the only the following by default:

"We may have very useful hyperlinks for this site. Please give us permission to check". If user presses Okay button, replace content with either (a) if we have processed, data as we provide for studytonight (b) if not processed, data as we show when we have not processed."

PFA what bing chat says.
